Mortgage: what the bank asks for

Life cover for a mortgage and, for information, the documents banks usually ask for.

> Every bank has its own list and its own terms. Ask your bank for it in writing; this list is general information only.

Life cover

- [ ] Banks usually ask for life cover for the amount and term of the loan
- [ ] The policy is assigned to the bank, so the loan is paid off if something happens
- [ ] With two borrowers, ask whether both must be insured and for what amount
- [ ] Depending on age and amount, health questions or tests may be required: allow time for them
- [ ] Ask whether the bank accepts a policy from an insurer of your choice

Documents banks usually ask for (for information)

- [ ] ID card or passport, and a residence permit if it applies
- [ ] Proof of income: payslips, tax returns, accounts for the self-employed
- [ ] Recent bank statements
- [ ] Property documents: purchase contract or title deed, permits, valuation
- [ ] Details of other loans or commitments

For your family

- [ ] The bank's cover pays off the loan; it does not replace the family's income
- [ ] When the loan changes, check that the cover still matches the balance
